Executive Summary

ADVAN's laptop manufacturing activities are generally compliant but face increasing regulatory pressure regarding Domestic Component Levels (TKDN) and import restrictions. The recent Permenperin 35/2025 introduces new certification procedures that must be adopted immediately. Management should prioritize local R&D; to offset the high value of imported Snapdragon components and maintain a 'Compliant' status for government procurement eligibility.

RISK LEVEL OVERRIDE — System upgraded risk level due to inconsistency with findings:

- Finding level HIGH detected — risk level upgraded from MEDIUM to HIGH.

■ No assumption-based statements detected. Analysis references verified regulatory sources.

1. Regulation Monitoring Results

Status: CHANGES_FOUND

Recent updates focus on the simplification of TKDN certification (Permenperin 35/2025) and resolution of import bottlenecks for electronic components as discussed in the Kemenkeu Debottlenecking session in March 2026. Companies must ensure compliance with the new ITE law amendments regarding electronic systems.

- Undang-Undang Nomor 1 Tahun 2024 tentang Perubahan Kedua Atas UU ITE — source: <https://peraturan.go.id/id/uu-no-1-tahun-2024>

2. Risk Analysis

The primary risk involves the calculation of TKDN for laptops using imported high-value components. While the unit value is manageable, cross-border activities and third-party involvement increase the scrutiny on import quotas and AML reporting requirements under FATF standards.

Risk Factors:

- Ketergantungan tinggi pada komponen impor (Snapdragon) yang memerlukan Persetujuan Impor (PI)
- Kewajiban pelaporan transaksi lintas negara jika nilai akumulasi melebihi ambang batas PPATK
- Kepatuhan terhadap standar teknis perangkat telekomunikasi (Sertifikasi SDPPI)

Potential Violations:

■ Potensi pelanggaran ambang batas minimum TKDN jika komponen Snapdragon tidak diimbangi riset lokal — source: <https://peraturan.go.id/id/permenperin-no-22-tahun-2020>
